

AMERICAN INSTITUTES FOR RESEARCH

Marilyn Moon, Ph.D. is Vice President and Director of the Health Program at the American Institutes for Research. She is a nationally-known expert on Medicare. She previously served as a Senior Fellow at the Urban Institute and as a public trustee for the Social Security and Medicare trust funds. Marilyn Moon has written extensively on health policy, both for the elderly and the population in general, and on social insurance issues. Recent publications include: “A Place at the Table: Women’s Needs and Medicare Reform” and “Stretching Federal Dollars: Policy Trade-Offs in Designing a Medicare Drug Benefit with Limited Resources.” From 1993 to 2000, Moon also wrote a periodic column for the Washington Post on health reform and health coverage issues.

Dr. Moon is the Program Director for the Commonwealth Fund’s Program on Medicare’s Future. She has served on a number of boards for non-profit organizations and is currently on the board of the Medicare Rights Center.

Moon earned a Ph.D. in economics from the University of Wisconsin--Madison. Previously, she was an associate professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, a senior analyst at the Congressional Budget Office, and the founding Director of the Public Policy Institute of the American Association of Retired Persons.